ON SOCCER

ution Soccer, like Stella to have got its groove back. bably the best edition we ng time. The much heralded s looks to support attacks otions for a satisfying rience. New additions such ball Control and Teammate re more power to the gamer.
is much improved as well with some exciting gameplay ly lacking in previous is still quite complex so you'll love it, just as ng for a quick football fix azed and confused at times.
e commentary is a bit re aren't many new game ast year. The lack of licences ry, but rest assured this is S had got to giving its key run for its money. No matter battle of football games it's o really wins. _AAK

Water way to go

The Jet-Surf is a motorised surfboard that can be a more practical alternative to traditional personal watercrafts like the Jet-Ski.

With the milder weather allowing for more outdoor activities in the next four months, now is the time to take stock of the hottest outdoor gear that's available here in the UAE. We must admit, the Jet-Surf is among the coolest things to hit the UAE coastline in recent times. A personal watercraft, which is actually a petrol-operated motorised surfboard, the Jet-Surf is capable of hitting speeds of up to 26 knots in the water. Think of it as an alternative to traditional watercrafts like the Jet-Ski.

The Jet-Surf does the same thing as a traditional stand-up Jet-Ski, but it comes with a loose handle, has no seats and is much easier to store away and transport than a Jet-Ski. Featuring a carbon fibre monocoque hull, a magnetic kill switch and removable and exchangeable foot straps, the Jet-Surf is 1800mm long, 600mm wide and has a depth of 150mm.

It weighs around 12.5kg and comes with its own carry on bag and light foldable stand. And power? It runs a two-stroke, 86cc engine and has a battery-powered electrical control unit – the engine has an automatic start/stop button.

Pearl Watercraft, dealers of the Jet-Surf in the UAE, tell us most buyers are yacht owners or people with properties on the waterfront. Apparently, a lot of people who have no space for a Jet-Ski are also looking at the Jet-Surf as a more practical option.
